Restoration Activities

Tonight we have the Spanish costume dance at Arts and Crafts Hall. Not only do we dance ourselves, but we shall see a number of Spanish senoritas in native dances.

Active solicitation for funds is under way here and elsewhere, and already several substantial local contributions have been received.

Notice of Meeting of City Board of Education

NOTICE is hereby given that the Trustees of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, County of Monterey, State of California, will, for the purpose of equalizing assessments, meet as a Board of Equalization on Monday, the 9th day of August, 1920, at 10 a. m.

The Assessment Roll will be ready for inspection on and after Monday, August 2, 1920.

Said meeting will be held at the Board Room of the City Hall, in the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, Cal.

T. H. Lewis and wife and married daughter, who used to live here, were recent visitors from Reedley, where Mr. Lewis has a young fig orchard of considerable acreage.

The demand for cottages for August, September and October occupancy is very great. It is estimated that there are 800 visitors in Carmel at present.

Dr. and Mrs. C. A. McCollom spent a week-end in San Francisco recently, meeting their daughter and son-in-law there and motoring to Carmel with them. Mr. and Mrs. Rollo are touring California and will return here before leaving for their home in Seattle.

H. S. Howard, publisher of the Berkeley Courier, was a visitor this week, with his wife. Mrs. Howard is much interested in the establishment of a Little Theatre in Berkeley.

Goold's Stage, Transfer and Auto Hire office now at old building across from Carmel Garage. Phone 605 W 5.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Martel of Mountain View are here by motor, guests of Mrs. J. M. Scott and Miss A. C. Robinson at Paradise Park.

Mrs. E. R. Veblen and Henry Cowell were visitors here last week. The young musician recently returned from New York.

Carmel Bath Pavilion open every evening for dancing; elect. piano; free admission. Wednesday evenings, Orchestra Dance.

Roy M. Wright of Pacific Grove and W. C. Adams of Monterey have been named on the committee to handle the open event tennis tournament on August 6 to 8. This event will serve to christen the new concrete courts at Del Monte.

Tonight at the Greek Theatre in Berkeley "The Quest," a spectacle play, by Sidney Coe Howard, goes on under the direction of Sam Hume. Wonder what Sam would have done with "The Sons of Spain"?

BUILDING

Big Doings at the County Seat

With a blare of trumpets and much ceremony Big Week and the Rodeo opened at Salinas yesterday. There will be five days of exciting sports and other features.

The Rodeo this year is attracting the widest attention throughout the county and state, as a proportion of the receipts are to be given to the Missions Restoration Fund.

Riding of wild bulls will be a special feature, 130 of the animals being now on hand.

An industrial exposition in a tent will also attract great attention.

Salinas may be reached by train, stage and private auto.

Highlands News Notes

The number of guests who return to the Inn after a first visit is constantly growing. Among such arrivals recently are Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Burke and family of Los Angeles and Mr. and Mrs. Landon Ross of Chicago, and their son, Gardner.

Dr. Lovell Langstroth of San Francisco, with his son, Lovell Jr., is a guest at the Inn.

The Highlands community was well represented at both performances of the children's play at the Forest Theatre.

Vice-President Thomas R. Marshall and his staff were recent luncheon guests.

Mr. Devendorf has added much to the charm of the Inn grounds by the placing of new rustic seats.

Gordon Davis has returned from a brief visit to Los Angeles, and will remain here a few days before returning to Stanford University.

A number of the Highlands residents are planning to attend the Spanish costume dance at Arts and Crafts Hall in Carmel tonight.

The Spanish Dance takes place tonight. Be there.

Two Remarkable Plays

Two Dunsany plays in a single evening, and two such evenings—there is something worth our waiting for; it is something for the whole Coast to anticipate, as a matter of fact. For, though all the world reads Dunsany, and raves about him, not all our western world can go three thousand miles to see his dreams presented on the stage.

To Herbert Heron and the Forest Theatre management we owe it that on August 13 and 14 Carmel will be as big as New York—as big, anyhow, in the world this remarkable mystic has created for himself.

And certainly, if one-tenth part of Dunsany's admirers in California could find a way here on these nights the 80-Acre Tract would not give them standing room.

The season season that opened with the astonishing pantomines "The Yellow Jacket" is now to close with the sensuous symbolism, "The Tents of the Arabs" and "The Golden Docm."

Gentlemen and ladies, we do thank you!

The Children's Play

In the limited space available, it is not possible to present here a fully adequate appreciation of the children's play we were privileged to witness at our Forest Theatre last week. But we have it on the the authority of those who have seen every children's play presented in Carmel that "Snow White" was the best of its kind yet produced here.

Certain it is that the producers, Messrs. Heron and Hilliard, brought together a most competent and hard-working cast to interprate the Grimm brothers' fantasy.

As the pompus court chamberlain, E. S. Solomons gave to the part a distinctive and well-remembered individuality. If he hadn't opened his mouth his strut and mannerisms would have won the plaudits of the audience.

In everything but make-up, Doris McEntyre was the witch of every child's and grown-up's imagination.

The part of Queen Brangomar, the villianess, gave to Marian Boke an opportunity to prove her versatality in stage work, and she did it well.

Dainty, petite, refreshing was Grace Wickham in the the title role. So in sympathy with here was the audience that they really did not want her to accept the comb or bite the apple.

Virginia Brinton was a Prince worthy to win "Snow White."

The Seven Dwarfs, who did so much to make the play a succes, were led by Phyllis Overstreet. Her work in juvenile parts during the past ten years now entitles her to be considered for adult parts.

The scene, "deep in the forest," was a fine bit of off-stage effect, and Herbert Heron, who conceived it, is entitled to every praise.

Pretty dances, attractive stage groups, music directed by Thomas Vincent Cator, and interesting picture-book stage settings by W. P. Silva, all combined to give a well-balanced and artistic performance.

An Artistic Event
Few persons realize the long training and inherent spirit of art necessary for the successful presentation of a program such as Gwendolen Logan gave on Tuesday evening at Arts and Crafts Hall, but certainly those present appeciated fully the result.

"The Song of Solomon" was beautifully rendered. Walt Whitman's "Sea Birds" made a deep impression. The Charlotte Stetson group was greatly enjoyed, as was "Squanicy Wort." But perhaps the finest art was shown in the French Ballads, which had all the simplicity and wildness of genuine folk-songs.

Another recital will be given on Thursday, Aug. 5, at Del Monte.
